

Trivelle Simpson

A graduate with an honours BA in Political Science from York University in Toronto Canada, with a career in finance and banking that spans 14 years, Trivelle Simpson has had the benefit of many experiences that has shaped his current career.

Starting his career at Davis and Henderson which specialized in check processing for Scotiabank, later evolved into opportunities at The Royal Bank of Canada, Genworth and Manulife and eventually Chief Operating Officer for Chelle Service Capital, which laid the foundation for his eventual push to entrepreneurship.

Founding “The Drive Group” in 2016 as a commodities trading think tank it now operates as a full investment consulting firm with over 30 Million dollars under management and growing.