

Mark Hill

Mr. Hill is the Chief Executive Officer of Export Barbados (Barbados Investment and Development Cooperation). He is an innovator, designer and entrepreneur who established two businesses: Innogen Technologies Inc. and Biogen Biotechnologies Inc. both within the field of clean technologies and renewable energy which focus on research and development.

Academically Mr. Hill is a former European Union Scholar, Industrial Designer trained at Demontfort University, Leicester UK and an MIT trained Product and Service Innovation Specialist and holds a Bachelor's of Arts in Theology, with research emphasis on Hebrew Wisdom Literature and further PhD research emphasis on Economic Theology.

Mr. Hill currently sits on the Geneva based International Trade Centre (ITC) advisory board developing Science, Innovation and Design Strategies (SIDS) for Small Island Developing States (SIDS). In 16 months he has revolutionized the industrial landscape utilizing an Export Oriented Industrial Strategy which has transformed Barbados's exports. Exports from -4% in 2020 to double digit growth of over 16% an overall growth of 20%. He is currently globally positioning Barbados as the "BIOISLAND" the hub for Life Science Investments within Latin America and The Caribbean.

Mark is the Pastor of Beach Church Barbados.